Pioneer In Corydon Plans 86th Birthday

Corydon, Oct. 25.—O. C. Sparks, lifelong resident of Corydon, chalks up another milestone along life's way on Monday, November 1st, when he observes his 86th birthday anniversary and maintains the distinction of being the community's oldest male citizen.

Born back in the horse and buggy era, in the year 1862, Mr. Sparks grew to young manhood in the river village and recalls Corydon was then as well as long after, headquarters for the lumbering industry.

His parents, the late Charles and Cynthia Morrison Sparks, upon coming to Corydon, erected a frame dwelling that is the site of Mr. Sparks' present home.

In the old days stood, some 150 feet away, the sizable cabin home of his grandparents, Rice and Dorothy Richards Morrison, was built before the Civil War, in the year 1822. Still standing to mark the spot are towering twin trees, one of recent years succumbing to the stress of storm, the other clinging to a natural branch spread of 60 feet.

According to Mr. Sparks, the trees are a species of maple, transplanted by his grandfather in 1828.

Vividly, Mr. Sparks recalls his father conducting a ferry and rowboat business on the Allegheny in Corydon for a period of 45 years. During the time about every make of horse-drawn vehicle was ferried for the small sum of 25 cents per trip, while rowboat passengers were charged a fee of five cents.

As a young man, O. C. Sparks followed mostly the lumbering activities but for the past 30 years has carried on successfully a profitable gardening business. For 55½ years a member of the local organization of Odd Fellows, he has also been a member of Corydon Grange for 45 years. In the past he served his community as tax collector, road supervisor and now, as always, takes keen interest in politics.

His longevity he credits to an inherited trait, stating that, "all his ancestors lived to enjoy a ripe, old age." The genial, aged gentleman, further relates that November 1st not only marks the date of his birth, but it commemorates also his and Mrs. Sparks' 39th wedding anniversary. Friends join in offering the couple the best of good wishes.

Tribute Paid In Sheffield To War Dead

As previously announced, impressive military rites were conducted in Sheffield by the Michael and Nicholas Peroski Post, No. 8753, Veterans of Foreign Wars, for two of that community's returned war dead, Sgt. Joseph T. Orinko and Pvt. Fred I. Morley, both returned from temporary military cemeteries on Luzon.

The following concerning the services is taken from the Sheffield Observer and will be read with interest by many friends in this vicinity:

The Rev. M. J. Macken conducted the Requiem Mass for Sgt. Orinko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Orinko, 58 Deerlick st., at 9 a. m. Saturday at St. Anthony's church, followed by burial in St. Joseph's cemetery, Warren.

Pallbearers were S. R. French, Joe Korchak, Jack McAvoy, Maurice Slater, Mike Misulich, Ed Mueller. The military escort from the Columbus, Ohio, quartermaster depot was Sgt. F. Adams.

Services for Pvt. Morley, son of Mrs. Orah Morley, 35 Keystone ave., and the late Howard Morley, were held from the Eorden Funeral Home at 2:30 p. m. Saturday with the Rev. E. D. Huise, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating. Burial was made in the Sheffield cemetery with pallbearers being Eugene Champion, Elwood McKown, Peter Schultze, Peter Orinko, Irwin Kunselman, Peter Orkruh. His military escort from Columbus was Sgt. L. C. Hohne.

Members of the Vets aiding in the rites both times were: Sgt. Orinko, color guard; Jack Cronmiller, Ray Burgess, color bearers; Kenneth and Robert Pith; commander of the firing squad, Ronald Felton; firing squad, Roy Burgess, Beryl Burlingame, Arnold Fornari, John Hoden, Jr., Fred Johnson, Fred Haumesser, Richard McGuire, Gerald Camp; bugler, Chet Sprandle; echo bugler, John Schultz, Jr.; drummer, Clair Capraun; chaplain, Laverne Schuler, post commander, Joseph O'Connor.

Pvt. Morley was killed April 6, 1945, while serving with the 7th Cavalry division on Luzon. A member of the 312th AAF bombardment group, Sgt. Orinko was killed when the plane on which he was aerial gunner crashed when on its 28th mission.

Among out-of-town persons here Saturday for the Morley rites were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kuntz, Punxsutawney; Mr. Kuntz was with Pvt. Morley much of the time they were overseas.

Four Deaths in State From Auto Mishaps

By The Associated Press

Only four out of 11 accidental deaths reported in Pennsylvania over the weekend resulted from automobile mishaps—one of the lowest traffic totals in months.

Two children died in a fire; two adults died in accidents involving railroad trains; a mine was killed in a rockfall, and another person was injured fatally in a fall.

A Delaware and Hudson Railroad freight train killed Mrs. Catherine Tarasiewicz, 65, of West Avoca, Sunday as she crossed tracks on her way to church, Police Chief Earl Clifford reported.

Seventy-year-old Luigi Minissale of Philadelphia died Sunday night of injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile last Monday.

Justice Laudenslager, 67, of Hummel's Wharf, Snyder county, was injured fatally by an automobile Sunday night while walking along a road near his home.

Anthony Giarracco, 21-year-old farmer, was killed Sunday when struck by the charge of a shotgun fired accidentally by a friend near Sellersville, Bucks county coroner J. Alfred Rigby reported.

A fire that wrecked a home in Beaver Falls killed two small boys, John Lory, Jr., three, and his brother Ford, eight months. Mrs. John Lory escaped from the house with her third child, Jacqueline, six.

Emmett P. Connolly, 35, of Philadelphia, a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman, was killed when his head struck the edge of a tunnel and he was hurled from the last car of a moving freight.

Stanley Romanick, 43, of Larksville, was killed in a rockfall at the Red Ash vein of Lorco No. 3 colliery of the Hudson Coal Company at Larksville. His body was recovered 12 hours later.

A fall outside the home of an aunt killed William Joseph Kolloway, 26 months old, of Washington, D. C., near Cresson.

Daniel E. Sullivan, 75, special equipment operator for the New Castle city streets department, was killed when his auto rammed a parked truck.

Forty-nine-year-old Duran English of Towanda was killed by an automobile as he was walking on a road near Wysox in a dense fog.

New Bishop Will Be Consecrated at Erie

Erie, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Rt. Rev. Edward Peter McManaman, 48-year old native of Wilkes-Barre will be consecrated Thursday at the Erie diocese of the Erie Catholic diocese and titular bishop of Florida.

Currently the rector of St. Peter's Cathedral—where he will be consecrated—Monignor McManaman was named to the bishopric last July 27 by Pope Pius XII. He was appointed a domestic prelate on May 24, 1947.

John Mark Gannon, bishop of the diocese, will consecrate the bishop. Other bishops to participate are The Most Rev. William Joseph Hafey, of Scranton; The Most Rev. George Leach of Harrisburg, and The Most Rev. Michael Joseph Ready, of Columbus.

Scores of priests and nuns from the east will attend. Many of them are personally known to Monignor McManaman through his long association with the Erie diocese.

After his ordination in Rome in 1927 he was assigned to the Erie diocese, his first pastorate being at Clearfield.

HENRY'S GIDEON ARMY

During the closing weeks of the 1948 presidential campaign, says James Thrasher in an editorial written for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror, a horrid political fate overtook Henry A. Wallace.

His supporters grew less numerous and less enthusiastic. People stopped throwing things at him. Worse still, a lot of them even stopped talking about him. The major candidates for the presidency ignored his presence in the race almost completely. The press, which had given front-page space to his speeches and to pictures of his campaign inside the paper. The polls indicated that his show was slipping, but nobody gave his declining percentage much notice.

Everywhere the dismal signs were apparent: the American people were bored to tears by Henry Wallace. In a campaign marked generally by a lack of public interest, the disinterest in Mr. Wallace grew to monumental proportions.

The trouble seemed to be that people quickly learned, if not everything about Mr. Wallace, at least everything he chose or was permitted to reveal about himself.

It was apparent early in the game that he had been taken over by the Communists and had become something very like a ventriloquist's dummy on his knees. It was shocking, but the shock wore off. His past history of contradictions and evasions was hunted up, made public, and easily digested. Two or three sessions clarified the Wallace technique in press conferences. He had answers only for the questions that suited him.

After these revelations, there was little to do except read or listen to his speeches. And the Wallace speeches probably induced the climactic yawn of his campaign. For this he can blame those ghost writers who, if not Communists themselves, had certainly cribbed extensively from the comrades' manual of propaganda.

Like so many Communist harangues, Mr. Wallace's speeches never became very specific. Consequently they never became very interesting. Day after day he kept whaling away at punching bags labeled Big Business, Wall Street, War Mangers, Bi-Partisans, Monopolies. But they all looked alike. And the more he punched the more indistinguishable they became.

Finally most of the public got tired and went away. Indignation had melted and enthusiasm had evaporated under pressure of the suffocating boredom.

Mr. Wallace must have realized himself that he had laid an egg far bigger than any that were thrown at him. For he bade farewell to his 1948 chances a month before election and started planning for "after Nov. 2."

But the third-party candidate will face some grave difficulties in planning for the future. The widespread hostility that he first aroused would be hard enough to lick. The indifference that succeeded it will be even harder. For how are you going to enlist prospects for a "Gideon's army" if you can't keep the prospects awake?

REMEMBERING YOUR FELLOWMEN
(Lancaster Intelligence-Journal)

Out in Warren, Pa., early one morning last week, a baker noticed the flames in his gas oven die out. Ten minutes later he heard the gas begin to flow again.

Fortunately, he realized that what had happened in the bake shop had happened all over the sleeping town where automatic gas burners were in use. So he quickly phoned the fire chief, and soon the whole community had been aroused by screaming fire sirens, and a sound truck. The result was that not one life was lost, although a half hundred residents were groggy from the gas when routed from their beds.

We shudder to think what would have happened if the baker had not given a thought of his fellowmen; if he had re-lighted his oven and gone on with his work.

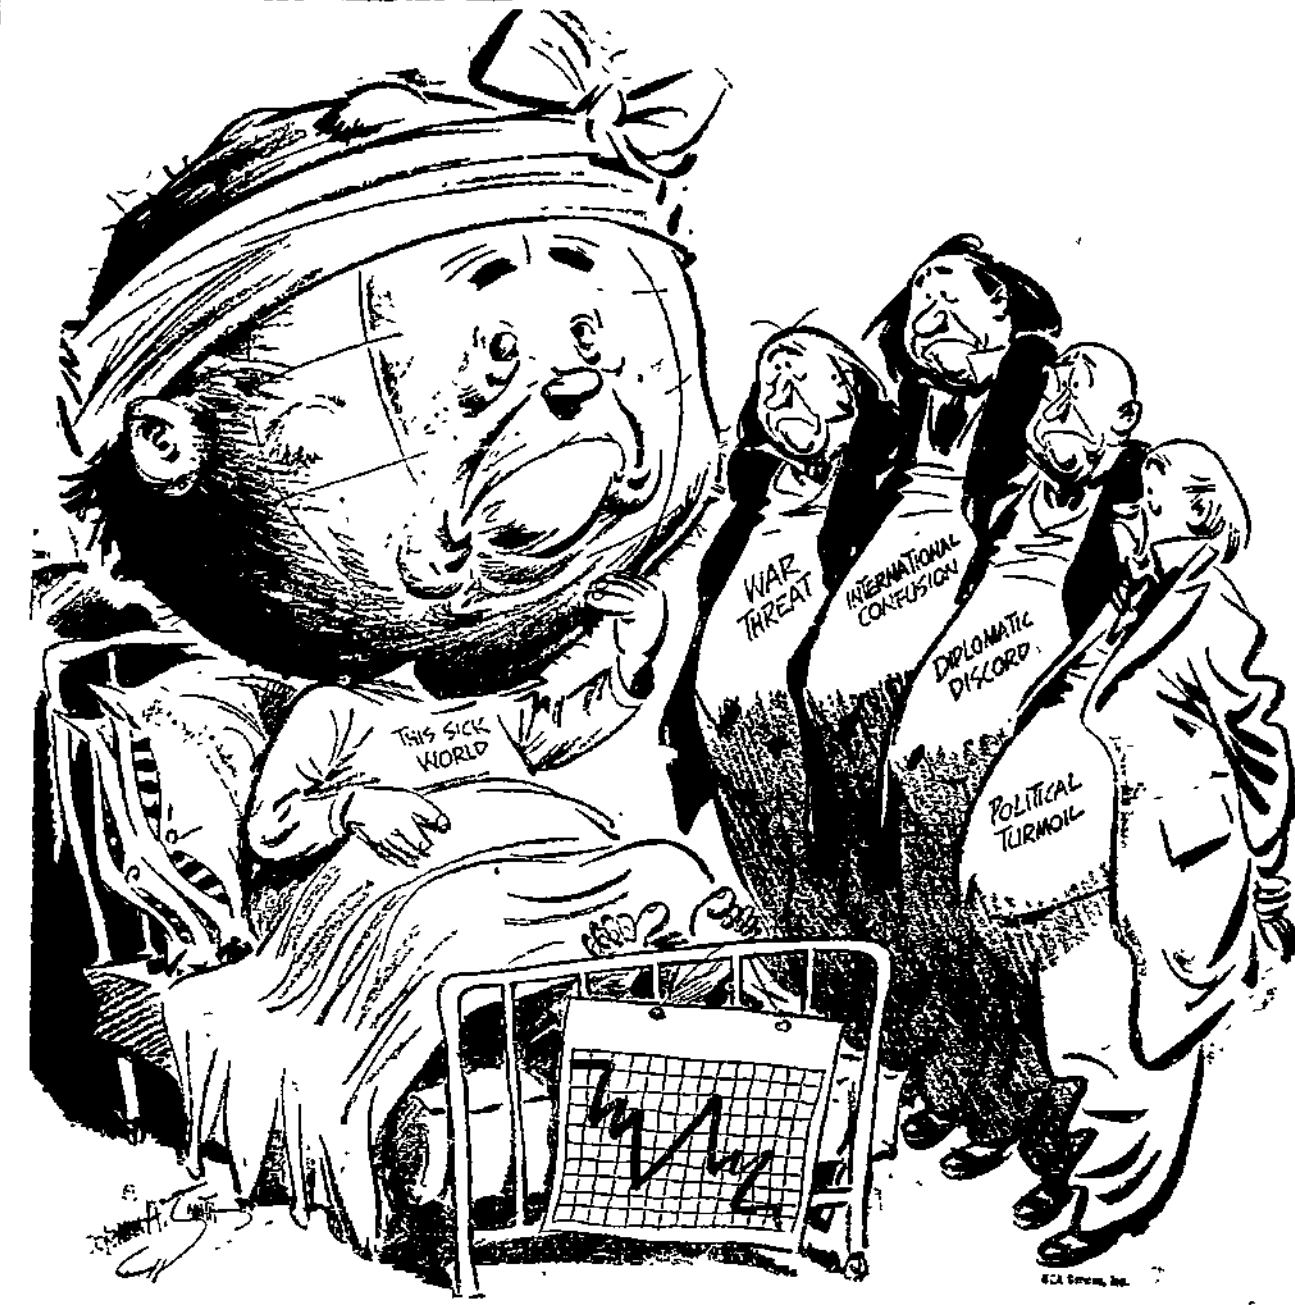

What a tragedy would have ensued!

The baker's thought of his fellowmen sets an example for every community where campaigns are now underway for Community Chests. Lancaster is one of these, and we will reach our goal in Lancaster if we think of our fellowmen as the Warren baker did. On the other hand, we can forget about them and go on with our work.

If we choose the latter course, no less tragedy will occur, in the broad sense, than would have occurred in Warren if the baker had thought no further than his own nose.

To emphasize the importance of religion in maintaining a free government, the Laymen's National Committee, a non-sectarian, non-profit organization, sponsors National Bible Week—this year October 18-24. It uses every possible avenue to stimulate people in all walks of life to be Bible conscious, irrespective of class, creed or color.

'For Goodness Sake, Can't Someone Smile?'

Here And There

Hallowe'en sixty-six years ago—From the Warren Ledger, November 3, 1882: "Last Tuesday night, October 31, was Hallowe'en. It grew out of the ancient superstitions days when it was believed to be the anniversary on which witches, goblins, fairies and ghosts held a grand meeting. In some of the larger towns the young people on this occasion do many unseemly things by taking off shutters, removing signs, throwing cabbage; while the maidens patterning after an old Scottish custom believe that by looking into mirrors they can discover their future husbands—seeing how he looks. In this place the observance was scarcely recognized, except by the urthins. A few cabbages were stolen and strewn about the streets. It is a custom that in these days may well be dispensed with."

This and That: Christmas mail for service personnel overseas must be sent by November 13, Washington has announced, and packages must not weigh more than seventy pounds or be more than 100 inches in the combined length and width. It may be a rude shock for many to learn that all persons who make wine in their homes for domestic use must register with the Pittsburgh office of the Alcohol Tax Unit. Harold R. Hunsicker, area investigator has reminded. . . . Tickets are on sale in Ridgway and Johnstown for both a round trip and a reserved seat at the stadium when the Johnstown Shamrocks play the Erie Vets at Erie on October 31, and it is also announced that because of the special rates which have been made by the Pennsylvania Railroad for those who desire to attend the game, it will be impossible for arrangements to be made to pick up any passengers west of Johnstown, the train leaving Johnstown at nine o'clock in the morning and departing from Erie at seven o'clock in the evening. . . . Many of his Warren friends will remember H. L. Miller, whose funeral was held Sunday from the Lutz funeral home, for his feats of magic and sleight of hand tricks; possessed of a likeable personality, Horner on joyed congenial fellowships, and some of his happiest times were spent while he was entertaining companions or associates from his "bag of stunts," and he was always a willing performer. . . . About 3,000 grid fans braved the chill blasts to watch the Johnstown Shamrocks trounce the Dubois Bucks, 21 to 0, in the first night football game ever played in Evershine Park in St. Marys Wednesday night, and the new arena was pronounced a tremendous success. . . . Clean is assured of continuity as a PONY league member by last week's action of stockholders in the new home-owned club corporation in organizing and ratifying a working agreement with the St. Louis Browns. . . . Wednesday, October 27th, observed as Navy Day, was inaugurated by the Theodore Roosevelt-Navy Day League, the date of the birth of Roosevelt, October is also the month in which the American Navy was founded in 1775 by the Continental Congress. . . . This is the season of the year when houses and garages are likely to be shut up tight, and poisoning from a gas known as carbon monoxide becomes increasingly common. Good thing to remember that in spite of the many warnings about this gas, especially of the danger of turning the motor of an automobile in a closed garage, each year brings forth a new crop of casualties—don't take unnecessary chances.

Chapter 11

THEY sat contentedly in the Sky Room of the El Cortez Hotel and waited for their drinks. Walter James half-turned and put his head close to the glass. Below him the lights of the city stretched in converging broken lines to the harbor where they merged with a jumble of ship lamps and signal beams. A faint fog was drifting in, obliterating the outlines of destroyers and merchant ships and fishing boats, but the silhouettes of most of the hotels and banks were clearly up-thrust against the night. He turned back to the girl.

"Nice view," he commented. "You'll get used to it," she said. He smiled. "You really think I'll be here that long?"

Is there anything you can tell me?" She asked the question like an eager little girl. She leaned across the table toward him.

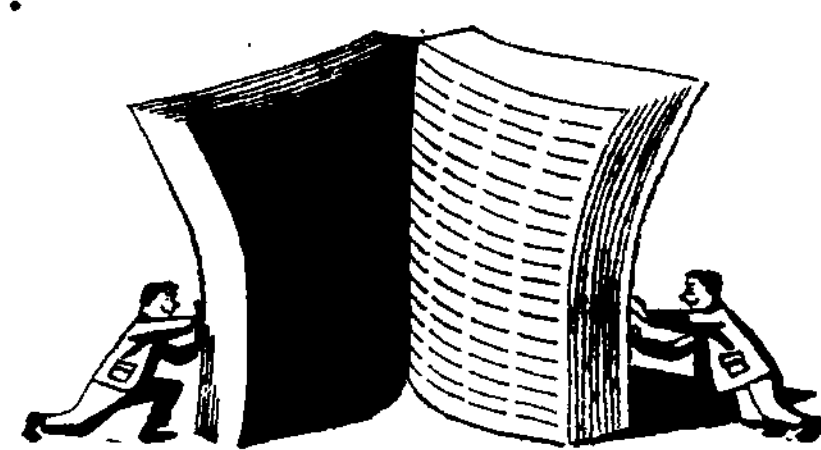

Walter James shrugged his slim shoulders. "There isn't much to tell. Clapp would rather not believe there's a good-sized dope ring breathing down his neck, but I'll give you odds that right now the vice squad is hauling in every known addict and breaking into every weed parlor north of the border. He's not ready to take my word for anything—of course, I haven't anything conclusive to show him—but he isn't taking any chances. Clapp's a smart cop."

"I like him," Kevin said warmly. "Kevin?" he said gently. She didn't look at him. "You'll have to tell somebody sooner or later. I hope I'll be the one you'll trust. You see, Clapp doesn't completely believe the reason you gave him for being at the Grand Theater."

Kevin turned toward him defiantly. "Oh, you're so darn smart!" Her fingers touched his briefly. "I'm sorry," Kevin said. Her eyes had a glint that reflected the bar lights. "Clapp. I'll tell you a little later. Not now, Walter."

"You look a little tired. If you want to go home—" Kevin protested. "No. Really, I'm not tired—just a little worried, maybe. I'm really having a lot of—well, I guess with your friend and that Filipino dead I shouldn't call it fun—but I am enjoying myself. Your voice is very soft and reassuring. Walter. So are your eyes."

"That's good," he said smiling. "I'm trying to build an appearance of trustworthiness to hide my serpent's heart."

teacher. And what was our Filipino man doing with his?" "Selling it to a friend. Or maybe not a friend. Maybe it was somebody he was crazy about, some woman he was trying to get somewhere with. Know what I'm talking about?"

The girl's wide mouth moved bitterly. "Spasta Lynn!" "That's right—the odd woman." "Odd? You said that last night, Walter."

"Maybe you didn't notice. But something about her act—something was wrong."

"You mean she might have been full of marijuana—right up there on the stage? I thought her dance was disgusting."

"That was why you went to a burlesque show, wasn't it? To see something disgusting—something you were missing at San Diego State College?" The girl looked stonily at her fresh stinger as the waiter lowered it to the table. "Anyway," Walter James continued, "that wasn't just what I had in mind. There was something else which I'm just sort of curious about."

"Yes?" "Are you going to see Shasta Lynn yourself?" Walter James gave her a slow smile. "Tomorrow, in her purse, came up with a slip of paper. 'Here's her address.' She took a long drink. 'I guess you're ready to tell me now,' prompted Walter James softly. The girl looked at him with eyes that brimmed with happiness. "Don't laugh at me, Walter." Walter James put his hand over hers. "You know I couldn't," he said. Kevin bit the inside of her lip. "My father's having an affair with Shasta Lynn."

Nelson - Horner Nuptials Oct. 16 In New Castle

There will be much local interest in the following account of a lovely fall wedding as described by the New Castle News of Saturday, October 16:

Miss Margaret Byers Horner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William W. Horner of 222 Fairfield avenue, became the bride of Dean R. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Nelson of 13 Parker street, Warren, at an impressive ceremony performed in the Trinity Episcopal church Friday morning, October 16, at 11:30 o'clock. Rev. Ralph Hovencamp officiated at the double ring ceremony before a gathering of immediate relatives.

The bride, given by her father in marriage, was stunning in a white gabled gown with a white halo hat and white accessories. She carried a white prayer book with white cymbidium orchids.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Horner wore a green suit, styled the same as the bride's and with it wore brown accessories and a lavender orchid corsage.

Gayle Nelson served as his brother's best man.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents with a lovely luncheon served buffet style.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson left in the late afternoon for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and upon their return will reside in their newly furnished apartment in Leeper.

Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of New Castle high school and attended Westminster college.

Mr. Nelson is a graduate of Warren high school and in June of this year graduated from Westminster College with a B. A. degree. He was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and was a letterman in basketball throughout his four years at student at Westminster. He is now teaching school and coaching basketball at Leeper.

County Couple Wed In Kentucky

Miss Margaret Jean Mulvey, Youngsville, became the bride of Max Marshall Hoy, of Sugar Grove, at twelve o'clock, noon, on Tuesday, October 19.

Rev. R. S. Derfield performed the double ring ceremony in the Methodist church at Sandy City, Ky. Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Johnson, Youngsville, were the couple's only attendants.

The bride is a graduate of Youngsville High School with the Class of 1948, while the bridegroom was graduated from Sugar Grove High School with the Class of 1945. They expect to make their home on West Main street, Youngsville.

Audience Delights In Dramatics Of Miss Ruth Enders

Over 300 theatre-loving people of Warren enjoyed an evening of delightful entertainment, when the Entertainment Committee of the Woman's Club presented Ruth Enders in her "Dramatic Miniatures."

Miss Enders was charming as an individual and gifted as an actress. Using no stage properties, her interpretations of scenes from current and classical plays were most vivid and realistic. Voice inflection and perfect diction enabled each word to be heard by everyone.

Miss Enders' ability to change from one character to another within the same scene was remarkable. Her versatility and range of selections insured each person of entertainment in almost every type of drama.

Ranging from the current play, "One Sunday Afternoon," in which two young girls waiting for a date in the park were depicted, to the dramatic and tense "Saint Joan" in the trail scene, only highest praise can be showered upon Miss Enders' presentations.

It would be difficult to say which part of the program was most enjoyed, but it was the mutual feeling of all that a well-rounded and highly entertaining program was given.

After repeated curtain calls, Miss Enders said that she hoped to appear in Warren again and the audience seconded that wish. The Woman's Club of Warren can be commended for bringing such high caliber entertainment to the people of Warren.

Miss Enders' program, in which each scene was done in costume, was: Gay Nineties Scene from "On a Sunday Afternoon" by James Hagan; Trial scene from "Saint Joan" by George Bernard Shaw; Strange Meeting from "Idiot's Delight" by Sherwood; Prison scene from "Mary Queen of Scotland" by Anderson; and three scenes from "Pygmalion" by George Bernard Shaw.

Legion Auxiliary At Ludlow Meets

Ludlow, Oct. 25—There was a large attendance for the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, held in the Legion Hall with Mrs. Joan G. Johnson and Mrs. Melvin McCleary as hostesses.

The meeting was opened by the retiring president, Mrs. M. J. Jones, who conducted routine affairs, introduced an welcomed the new president, Mrs. L. B. Connelly.

Mrs. Connelly announced appointment of her committee chairmen as follows: Americanization, Mrs. Ray Swanson; child welfare, Mrs. Eugene Huber; publicity, Mrs. Enoch Nelson; coupons, Mrs. Olga Wallin.

New business included election of Mrs. Ray Swanson as delegate to the Inter-county Council, with Gladys Morelli as alternate. All new officers are to be installed at the meeting at St. Mary's, these being Mrs. Connelly as president; Miss Millie Morelli, first vice president; Mrs. Melvin McCleary, second vice president; Miss Evelyn Swanson, secretary; Miss Gladys Morelli, treasurer; Mrs. William Hanson, chaplain; Mrs. Allen Peterson, sergeant at arms; and Mrs. Enoch Nelson, historian.

It was voted to assist the Legion with its dance on October 23, with Mrs. Vernon Swanson and Mrs. Ray Swanson as chairmen.

Members were reminded of the names of those having special articles for sale and all were asked to support these projects of the organization.

BRIDAL SHOWER

FOR GEORGIA JOHNSON
Mrs. Agnes Champion and daughter, Lilian, were hostesses for a miscellaneous shower which honored Miss Georgia Johnson, of Tiona, who became the bride of Elmer McCracken, of Highland, on Saturday. The bride-elect received many nice gifts for her new home and at the close of the evening, lunch was served by the hostesses.

Guests were Mrs. Joe Gerarde, Mrs. Marie Gerarde, Mrs. Ida Blanchard, Mrs. Louise Clapp, Mrs. Frances Ramsey, Mrs. Lorraine Lane, Mrs. Leroy Hines, Mrs. Gladys McCullough, Warren; Mrs. Lavina Lindsey, Jamestown; Mrs. Kathryn Parker, Kane; Mrs. Emma Johnson, Miss Louise Johnson, Mrs. Earl Gay, Mrs. John Eckert, Mrs. Frances Storror, Johnsonburg.

OPT-MRS. CLUB HOLDS MEETING
The monthly dinner-meeting of the Opt-Mrs. Club was held at the Hotel Carver. Editha E. Egan, the new vice president, Jane Bevelino, opened the business session with roll call of officers and reading of the minutes in the absence of the secretary.

A hobo party and square dance was planned for the joint meeting with the Optimists on November 4, with a tureen dinner to be served by the women. Announcement cards will be mailed to all members. A good time is anticipated and it is hoped there will be a large turnout of Optimists and their wives.

Members are reminded the next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held the third Tuesday of November.

CLARENDON WSWS ENJOYS GATHERING

The WSWS of the Clarendon Evangelical United Brethren church held its monthly meeting at the church. Following the business session, an interesting program was conducted by Mrs. C. C. Van and Mrs. Claire Campbell, president, from which members learned much about conditions and customs in various countries.

There were 14 women present from the WSWS of the Methodist church and their presence and the part they took in the program was an inspiration to the hostess group. A piano solo played by Mrs. Floyd Crocker and a group of hymns sung by the following girls: Evelyn Hiner, Winifred Johnson, Madeline Amshler, Dorothy Klenck and Betty Lou Garber, were much enjoyed.

After the close of the program, those present were invited to the church dining room where a buffet luncheon was served from a table prettily decorated in lavender and yellow. A centerpiece of yellow and lavender mums, flanked by lavender candles in crystal holders, added much to the appearance of the table. Mrs. Ellen Lobdell and Mrs. C. C. Van presided at the luncheon.

There were 20 present from the hostess church, many of whom were members of the organization.

Clothes For Friendship

The Warren County Girl Scouts have already sent 26 Clothes for Friendship kits thru the American Friends Service Committee and hope to send their full quota by December 1. The girls will welcome contributions and friends interested may call either the leader of the nearest Girl Scout troop; Mrs. William Glassman, or the Girl Scout office. The project in this county is under the direction of Council's Juliette Low Committee, with Mrs. Glassman as chairman.

Each of the clothing kits contains a complete outfit for one child. It may be a layette for a baby, or an outfit for an older baby (1 to 3 years) or for any child, boy or girl, up to 14 years of age. Each kit is made up for either winter or summer.

Many troops have kits almost ready for shipment, but need some items to complete it. The greatest need is for underwear and pajamas for both boys and girls in every size. Diapers and baby shirts are also desired to complete some of the layette kits.

Warren troops whose kits have gone forward are numbers 64, 5, 4, 3, 19, 51, 61, 44. North Warren and Starbuck troops have forwarded kits also. The Conewango Neighborhood Club, the adults in one neighborhood, have sent two kits to help the local Council meet its quota.

WNAE will carry a transcription program Tuesday, at 10:45 a. m. featuring Lowell Thomas and Tony and Dickey Chapelle, presented by the American Friends Service Committee.

Game Commission To Crack Down Hard On Violators

Harrisburg, Oct. 25—(AP)—The State Game Commission said today it will crack down harder than ever this year on game law violators.

Executive Director Tom Frye announced the stricter policy as an estimated 1,000,000 hunters looked over their shotguns and ammunition supplies in preparation for the opening of the small game season Monday, Nov. 1.

The commission stuck to its policy of making no forecasts on the hunting prospects, but officials said it has been "a banner year" so far as the propagation and distribution of game in the woods and fields has been concerned.

Given the right weather conditions, sportsmen should do at least as well as last year.

Director Frye's pre-season warning against law violations noted hunters can lose hunting and trapping privileges as well as pay fines and costs for infractions. "The payment of only the fines and costs," Frye said, "will no longer satisfy the sportsmen of Pennsylvania, so the game commission intends to use its legal authority in denying the hunting and trapping privileges of those who flout the laws."

"Killing game by mistake and reporting the mistake, as well as delivering the carcass to a game protector, or his residence, within twenty-four hours, relieves the offender of three-fourth of the penalty as well as the danger of revocation of hunting and trapping privileges."

Frye added "our sportsmen are urged to cooperate with the game protectors and other representatives of the commission not only in reporting any game killed by mistake, but in reporting infractions of the law on the part of all violators."

The game season opens at 9 a. m. and continues until Nov. 27 for ringneck pheasants, rabbits and squirrels. Quail and partridges can be hunted until Nov. 13 and ruffed grouse until Nov. 6. Red squirrels are fair game until next Sept. 30, and raccoons until Feb. 1, 1949. The season also opens for woodchucks Nov. 1 and continues until Nov. 27.

Party Leaders Dig In To Win Two Fiscal Posts In State

tem, and presently as chairman of the joint state government commission, legislative fact-finding agency.

To oppose Heyburn, the Democrats have selected State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black, long-time Democratic leader in the Keystone State.

A native of Harrisburg, Black served as a member of the general assembly in 1917, twice as a Dauphin county commissioner, postmaster of Harrisburg, and was appointed assistant postmaster in charge of finances, Washington, D. C., by former President Roosevelt. He was elected state treasurer in 1944.

Black is basing his campaign for auditor general on his record as state treasurer.

The Republican candidate for state treasurer is Charles R. Barber, state welfare secretary, and former mayor of Erie. A native of the lake city, Barber was named to his first public office—that of alderman—at the age of 27.

In his speeches, Barber has avoided all controversy and personalities. He instead is basing his talks on the outline of the duties of the fiscal offices and a pledge to "administer the office of treasurer capably and efficiently."

The Democrats also went into the state senate to find their candidate for state treasurer, selecting William J. Lane. Lane was born in Brownsville, Fayette county. An insurance man, Lane served two terms of justice in the state house before he was elected to the senate to fill the unexpired term of Sen. Wallace S. Gounley, who resigned to become a federal judge. Lane was reelected to the state senate for a full term in 1946.

NINA MAY PASCO
Mrs. Nina May Pasco, wife of Archie Pasco, Akeley RD 1, died at the family home at 615 p. m. Sunday. She was born in New York state February 8, 1880, but had been a resident of Akeley community practically all of her life. She was a member of the Cable Hollow Evangelical United Brethren church and of the Woman's Benefit Association.

Besides her husband, she leaves the following children: Mrs. Neva Carnahan and Mrs. Ruth Dickey, Warren; Mrs. Mildred Holt and Robert Pasco, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mrs. Dorothy Schuyler, Akeley, and Miss Carol Pasco, at home.

Removal has been made to the Peterson Funeral Home, where friends will be received at the usual calling hours until noon Wednesday. The body will be taken to the church at Cable Hollow. Services will be held from there at two o'clock the same afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. J. Vrooman, Stillwater, N. Y. Interment will follow in the Hale cemetery, Akeley.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, Oct. 25—(AP)—Stocks drifted downward in the market today in restricted trading. Price declines were measured in fractions to more than a point although the heavier loss were in the minority. A fairly active opening was accompanied by mixed quotations, but when the list trended down the volume of offerings fell off. This was in sharp contrast to last week when rising prices came on a marked expansion in the volume of business. Brokers felt the move was a technical reaction to the recent rapid rise. They pointed out that the mark-downs were not accompanied by a rush of offerings. Steels were the most active group with U. S. Steel the leader. Oil stood against the fall for some time but soon came into line with the general decline.

INJURED IN CRASH
Six-year-old Louis Gebhart suffered a minor laceration of the head, State Police reported, when a truck operated by his father, Lawrence Gebhart of R.D. 2 Russell, ran off Route 62 near Akeley last night and struck a pole. Gebhart was proceeding northward at the time. Damage to the truck was estimated at $150.

YOUNGSMITH Awaits Small Power Compromise
fused to talk, saying they had to hurry to the Council meeting.

Bramuglia went to the Russian embassy where Vishinskiy was waiting to hear the answer of the western powers.

Bramuglia said before the conference he considered the chances for acceptance of a compromise settlement "slightly better" than they were Saturday.

An authoritative source said Bramuglia believed his new proposal might at least have assured a Russian abstention—rather than a veto—when the final vote is taken.

The only proposal before the council as it met in the Palais was the six-power neutral resolution presented last Friday.

The Council failed to pass.

Bramuglia said chances for acceptance of the compromise settlement were "slightly better" today than they were Saturday.

Western sources said they knew of no plan to change the resolution which was aimed at breaking the east-west deadlock without fixing any blame for what the western powers termed a threat to peace.

There still was no indication what Russia will do but western sources predicted the Council would reach a vote on the resolution offered by the six neutrals by late this afternoon.

Delegates of the neutrals also met privately this morning.

Foreign Minister Juan Bramuglia of Argentina, acting president of the Security Council, left the morning's behind-the-scenes maneuvers by receiving Dr. Phil C. Jessup of the U. S. Then he saw the British and French delegates.

1949 KAISER POWER

ANOTHER BIG STEP AHEAD
BY THE MEN FROM WILLOW RUN

Ask any man at Willow Run about the kind of power in the new 1949 Kaiser! He'll tell you the new Kaiser DeLuxe has the highest compression engine you can get as regular equipment in any standard American car—bar none!

He'll tell you its horsepower is up for more mileage, and even more economy! He'll talk about faster pickup and getaway. And he'll tell you about the powerful new Kaiser dual throat carburetion—more miles for every gallon!

The men at Willow Run are mighty proud of Kaiser power. They believe they have the finest car your money can buy in any price class. They invite you to drive it—this very day! Come! Bring the family! Take the wheel for your own personal testing! Just phone any Kaiser dealer—or drop in at his showroom today for your own kind of "show me" test!

Why don't you drive a 1949 Kaiser today and find out?

Youngsville Firemen To Use Funds For New Truck
Youngsville, Oct. 25—Youngsville Volunteer Fire Company has announced plans for its annual Halloween dance for Friday evening, October 29, from nine until one, in the LOOF Hall.

Members of the company give of their time and labor to Youngsville and surrounding communities the best fire protection possible, and the boys deserve the support of the public in this worth while project.

The company appreciates the money given each year for tickets, as well as contributions from others who do not attend the dance. At present the company is in need of a No. 4 truck and is planning to use funds from this year's party for purchase of such a truck.

Round and square dancing will be featured, with Orrie Beebe's Orchestra providing the music for this 22nd annual affair.

The Junior and Senior high schools are also making plans for their annual Halloween frolic at the high school gymnasium. The features for each class will be plays acts of variety. There will be the costume parade and some new features. The public is invited and refreshments may be purchased. Teachers and pupils are working to make this an unusually fine party.

International Theme

Youngsville PTA presented an especially interesting program for its regular meeting, with Mrs. Pauline Halfast as chairman of the program and Mrs. Wendell Engstrom, president, in charge.

Mrs. Donald Abraham presented an interesting report of the recent state PTA convention which she attended and Mrs. Wyllys Johnson gave a short talk, presenting some of new methods of PTA work. Mrs. Halfast introduced three speakers who, from their personal observations, gave glimpses of educational work in other lands.

Miss Edith Husted, wearing a Japanese costume, told of school life in Japan before and since World War II. Mrs. Dora Johnson, who recently returned from Sweden, told of school life there and described a patriotic school parade. Mrs. Maxwell Rhodes told of her own school life in England and the new school plan in England now in use. Several vocal numbers were given by a double male quartet from the E. U. B. Church. Guests were served a delectable Halloween luncheon in the school cafeteria by the committee of 7th Grade mothers.

Mrs. Gertrude Smith gave a very interesting talk at the E. U. B. Sunday school about the Indians of New Mexico, which she visited often when she lived at Albuquerque, and with whom she has kept in contact since leaving New Mexico.

F. Lyle Weaver, of Springdale, spent a recent weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weaver, and attended the funeral of his uncle in Williamsport.

At the monthly dinner meeting of the Methodist church school board, Charles Spencer was re-elected secretary and treasurer with John Knapp as assistant. Plans for the year's work were considered.

Miss Betty Husted spent a few days in Washington, D. C., last week in company with several other Warren county Girl Scout leaders and one senior Girl Scout representative.

Glad to report Mrs. William Hesburn, who was ill for some time, seems a little better.

Recent guests of Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Chilcote were the Monroe Blodgett family of Sheffield; Ben Kilgore, Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. Robinson; Mr. and Mrs. William Grove, Warren.

Clark over the weekend.

The chairman of the House Unday by calling the timing of the inquiry "despicable" politics.

The justice department had let it be known Friday night that a new federal grand jury here was looking into the situation first mentioned by Columnist Drew Pearson and then cited by 17 lawyers from Thomas' New Jersey congressional district.

The lawmaker said he welcomed the investigation but commented that it seemed strange he of all congress members should be singled out for "this vicious smear technique" just before the election.

Dewey Leaves at Midnight For Chicago
(R-Mich) lost his chairmanship of the senate foreign relations committee to a Democrat, some of his friends think he would be more interested in becoming secretary of state than remaining in the senate.

A great many of Dewey's friends think he would pick Rep. Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan) for secretary of agriculture.

Dewey has promised publicly to name a secretary of interior from one of the 11 far western states, excluding California and Arizona because of their current water dispute.

There are some who believe that he might name Gov. Sam Ford of Montana.

Great Britain imported carrots and other edible roots from Holland and Flanders as early as 1510.

PRISCILLA'S POP

THE FIRST START! WONDER IF IT'S TRUE THAT YOU CAN MAKE A WISH ON IT!

I WISH POP WOULD COME UP AND TALK WITH ME!

PRISCILLA! GET BACK IN THAT BED!

JEEPERS! IT REALLY WORKS!

OH, WALDO! WON'T IT BE WONDERFUL WHEN WE HAVE OUR OWN HOME?

IT SURE WILL!

I CAN JUST SEE US PAINTING AND PAPERING ALL THE ROOMS.

ON SUNDAYS WE CAN MOW OUR LAWN AND DIG IN OUR GARDEN!

COME NOW, HAZEL! YOU SHOULDN'T LOOK AT JUST THE GLOOMY SIDE OF IT!

HONEST, HAZEL! I DON'T KNOW WHAT I'D DO WITHOUT YOU!

WILD HORSES COULDN'T KEEP US APART!

THAT'S SWEET, DEAR.

I REALLY MEAN IT! EVERY MOMENT AWAY FROM YOU IS AGONY!

CHARLIE SAYS HE'S HAVING A LITTLE GAME TONIGHT. MIND IF I GO OVER?

WASH TUBBS

BUT IT'S NOT THE RUMS WHERE WE HIDE HIS VALUABLES, PENNY!

SOME THINK STONEHENGE WAS AN ANCIENT SUN TEMPLE... MY UNCLE THOUGHT IT WAS A HUGE PRIMITIVE CALENDAR.

OP IT, NOW, DEARIE! YER 'INDERIN' ME JOB WITH THIS YANK!

STUNNED FOR A MOMENT BY SCROOBY'S BOLD, TEA-YA, RALLIES WHILE PENNY DISTRACTS SCENT'S THING.

ORDERED BY SCROOBY TO ELIMINATE EASY FROM THE SEARCH, SCROOBY TRIES TO WATLAY HIM BUT...

SO YOU HAVEN'T HAD ENOUGH, YOU BLASTED LIMEY!

YOU'VE SQUELCHED HIM EASY! MY SUCH FUPP! I THOUGHT YOU'D WRECK STONEHENGE WITH HIM!

HE SLAPPED YOU OFF THAT ROCK, DIDN'T HE? NEY, ARE YOU HURT, PENNY?

VIC FLINT

I TOLD MY HUSBAND TRUTH, MR. FLINT, BUT LATELY HE'S BEEN SO DIFFERENT I THINK I THINK THERE MUST BE SOMEONE ELSE.

SO YOU'D LIKE ME TO FOLLOW HIM AROUND AND FIND OUT? IS THAT IT?

YES! HOW DID YOU GUESS?

IT WASN'T HARD. I'M SORRY, BUT YOU CAME TO THE WRONG PLACE. YOU'RE THE SECOND PERSON I'VE TURNED DOWN IN THE LAST HALF-HOUR.

COME NOW, MA'AM. THINGS CAN'T BE THAT BAD. YOU WANT ME TO SHADOW YOUR HUSBAND AND I WON'T DO IT, THAT'S ALL. WHY CRY ABOUT IT?

BUT I THOUGHT IT WAS THE ONLY THING TO DO.

WHEN! THE WEeping ONES ARE ALWAYS THE TUGHEST TO GET RID OF.

OH-ON! SHE FORGOT HER PICTURE!

WHY, IT'S THE SAME BIRD THAT WAS IN HERE HALF AN HOUR AGO!

I'VE SQUANDERED A SODA ON YOU, LIBBY, AND TOLD YOU ABOUT MY ANYTHERY COUPLE. ANYTHING ELSE?

ANSWER A COUPLE OF QUESTIONS FOR ME, VIC, AND I'D LOVE A BAG OF POPCORN.

THIS ROBIN AND HIS WIFE EACH CAME TO YOU AND WANTED TO CHECK ON THE OTHER'S MOVEMENTS, RIGHT?

RIGHT, AND HERE'S YOUR POPCORN, MY CHARMING LITTLE GOLD DIGGER.

DON'T TRY TO PRETEND YOU'RE A SUGAR DADDY. THE NEXT ROLE YOU'RE GOING TO PLAY IS CUPID!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

YOU KNOW, LARD, THIS MAY ANNOY THE CHICKS!

WHATTA YOU THINK I'M TRYING TO DO?

LOOKS LIKE WE'RE GOING TO HAVE TO TAKE ACTION!

THEY SURE ARE ASKING FOR IT!

IF WE CAN GET EVEN ONE BOY TO TREAT A GIRL DURING THIS SEASON, YOU'LL ADMIT YOU'RE LICKED! RIGHT?

RIGHT! BUT YOU HAVEN'T GOT A CHANCE, SUGAR!

BETCHA! BETCHA!

SO AS THE BUBBLE GUM SAID TO THE LIPS, LET'S STICK TOGETHER! THE WOMAN MUST PAY!!

THEY'RE UNCLEMIZED, BARBARIAN AND UNFRIENDLY!

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

BOOTS, WHAT HAPPENED AT THAT GENTS' MEET OVER AT THE BUDD'S LAST NIGHT?

I DON'T KNOW EXACTLY, PUG!

WHY, SHE ASKED!

BOOTS, I THOUGHT THERE WAS TO BE A GATHERING OF THE MOTHERS IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD TODAY?

THERE WAS?

BUT SO FEW OF THEM COULD ATTEND, IT'S BEEN CALLED OFF!

OH!

THE MEN'S PARTY OVER AT THE BUDD'S QUERRED IT, EN!

DARBY, WHEN YOU GROW UP, I HOPE YOU'LL LEARN TO KEEP YOUR BIG MOUTH!

PUG, DEAR!!!! IS YOUR HOMEWORK FOR TOMORROW ALL DONE?

OH, WELL! WHY WORRY ABOUT OUR LITTLE OLD NEIGHBORHOOD? GROWN-UPS HAVE GOT TO LEARN. WOULD IT'S SUCH A FOUL, SHAME IT'S HARDLY WORTH GROWING UP INTO!

Boro Police Probe Many Routine Calls

Police activities over the weekend included the investigation of accidents, assisting a local citizen to a doctor, the usual number of nuisance calls and the usual quantity of unlocked doors.

Yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, cars operated by Josephine L. Decker, 1419 Pennsylvania avenue, west, and Joe Wildman, of Jamestown, N. Y., were involved in a collision at the intersection of Walnut and Hill streets with damages to the left front side of the Decker car, amounting to an estimated $80. There were no arrests.

At two o'clock Saturday morning a Buick sedan driven by Nona Lee Kohlman, of Remco, Michigan, failed to negotiate the turn onto the Glade bridge while traveling east and hit the guard posts around the railroad flasher signal at that point. A passenger in the car, Janet Feeley, of Pontiac, Mich., sustained cuts about the face. Damages to the car were estimated at $300. The ladies were enroute to Bradford at the time of the crash, they told police.

Some kids on Hickory street who were tampering with the gasoline tank of a parked car on Friday evening about seven o'clock are $2.43 poorer by having to replace the gasoline which had to be drained from the tank of the vehicle.

Three young men, who took it upon themselves to disarrange the display of the Briggs Flower Shop on Pennsylvania avenue, west, Saturday evening about 7:45 o'clock are also $5 poorer as a result of their work. Mr. Briggs, proprietor of the shop, agreed to accept that

Texan Is New Legion Chief

James B. O'Neil, left, of New Hampshire, retiring national commander of the American Legion, "crowns" his successor, S. Perry Brown, 56-year-old Beaumont, Tex., building contractor and veteran of both World Wars. Election of Brown at the Legion's 30th annual convention in Miami, Fla., was considered a victory for the organization's "old guard."

Do you suffer distress from

'periodic' FEMALE WEAKNESS

With Its Nervous, Highstrung Feelings?

Are you troubled by distress of female weakness? Do you feel so nervous, restless, irritable, weak, a bit moody? Do you feel tired, do you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms? Women by the thousands have reported remarkable benefits.

Pinkham's Compound is what doctors call a "female strengthener." It has a gentle soothing effect on one of woman's most important organs. "Pinkham's Compound" helps build up resistance against such distress as also attacks "female troubles" as all doctors agree.

Change of Life

If the functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women distresses you suffer from hot flashes, "heat," highstrung, nervous feelings—try Pinkham's Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's famous for this purpose.

Monthly Female Pains

Pinkham's Compound is very effective to relieve monthly cramps, headache, backache, nervousness due to female functional monthly disturbances.

Super Aircraft Carrier Planned by the Navy

This is an artist's drawing of the U. S. Navy's 65,000-ton, flush-deck aircraft carrier. Originally proposed by the late Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, the design of this carrier has been under study since October, 1945. Although the basic design and major characteristics of the ship have been fixed, the location of certain structures, such as the stacks, elevators and the telescopic bridge, is still under study. The artist's conception reflects the Navy's present plans for the carrier. The largest U. S. Naval vessel to be constructed so far, the ship will measure 130 feet longer on the water-line beam will be 130 feet and maximum fixed width will be 190 feet. Including temporary structures which may be hinged up or down, the maximum width of the carrier will be 236 feet. Speed will be about 35 knots.

Mackenzie's Column

By RELMAN MORIN
A. P. Foreign Affairs Analyst
(For DeWitt Mackenzie)

A desert is a prize in the Palestine conflict.

The Israeli government announced that its troops have taken ancient Beersheba in the very heart of the Negev, a wasteland.

Why fight for a wasteland? In the days of appeasement, Mussolini was offered a similar territory in Africa, and he rejected the offer with the scornful wisecrack, "I am no collector of deserts."

Nor is any nation if it has a choice. For Israel, there is not much choice. Her spokesmen contend that she must have the Negev, not only for future expansion, but to achieve the Jewish dream of a modern state with an economy evenly balanced between agriculture and industry.

The Negev is a pretty poor area. It is a little smaller, in square miles, than Connecticut, but there is no further resemblance between them. The Negev is barren, waterless, bleak, brown and unfriendly. It looks incredibly old, and if it ever had any value for humans, none is apparent now.

For this reason, it has never been mapped. Probably it has never been entirely explored.

Nevertheless, Israel claims it, and it is expending blood and treasure to get it. These are the reasons:

The new state is already feeling population pressure. Immigration since the end of the war, and particularly within the past year has brought the population mark to nearly 800,000.

Many thousands more are waiting in Europe to go into Palestine. The planning of the Jewish agency, before the end of the war, embraced about 1,000,000 people. Some 600,000 Jews were "then living" in Palestine.

To carry out this program, the Israeli government contends that it must have that desert territory. And, in fact, the original United Nations plan, proposed last November, allotted most of the Negev to Israel.

Population is not the only factor. Industrial potentiality—a factor it is only a potentiality now—is equally important.

During the years of the British mandate, the Jews were able to organize collective farms in other desert lands, and make them produce. They went into the weird land bordering on the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea, prospecting for minerals and setting up chemical works.

They propose to do the same thing now in the desert of Negev.

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

GIVEN COMMENDATION

Tommy D. Bean, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bean, 620 Water street, has been awarded a letter of commendation from his commanding officer, it was announced by Sgt. Copeland, U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting service, located in the post office building.

Sgt. Copeland reports that Tommy, who enlisted at this station last June, has made excellent progress since his entry into the service. He has been attending a medical field service school at Brooks Air Force Base in Texas. He was commended not only for his academic accomplishment but also for his excellent soldierly habits in the face of keen competition.

"The Marseillaise" was not written in Marseilles, but in Strasbourg, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

IN APPRECIATION

We wish to thank the Russell and Warren Fire departments, the neighbors and friends who came and saved our home and other buildings when our barn burned last Sunday morning, and all who have helped since then.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Anderson and Family.

RUPTURE SHIELD EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVNNAN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at the Samuels Hotel, Jamestown, Fri. and Sat. only, Oct. 2 and 30 from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Mr. Shevnan says: The Zotic Shield is a tremendous improvement over former methods, effecting immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly no matter the size of location, strengthen the weakened part and thereby close the opening in the days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume. A national, known scientific method. No undergarments or cumbersome arrangement and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge. 6509 N. Artesian Ave., Chicago 4. Large incisional hernia or rupture following surgical operation especially solicited.
